CEO OF MANAGEMENT CONSULTING FIRM TO GIVE PRESENTATION AT AVIATION WEEK FORUM IN OCTOBER

Syracuse, NY, September 16, 2009: Monica Johns, President and CEO of Clarity Management Consulting, has been invited to give a presentation at Aviation Week's Commercial Aviation Supply Chain Management Forum on Thursday, October 22, 2009. The conference will be held in San Diego, California from October 21-22.

The title of the presentation is "Selecting Innovative Supplier Partners Using a 5-Step Project Management Approach." It deals with the steps involved in identifying forward-thinking suppliers who can help corporations improve performance and achieve their long-term strategic goals. This is a critical need as companies become more focused on using supplier partnerships as a means of driving innovation. The right supplier selection tools can play an important role in building value-based relationships.
